“ Always well dressed. I feel so sad for Mrs. Sharon. Stay strong sis. Lawrence and Mrs. Sharon were my Neighbors but it felt more like family. Tiffany was a young girl still in school and would do my daughters hair. So this is beyond neighbors.

“ Lawrence was like my older brother that I never had. We met almost 10 years ago and have been close ever since. I have come to know his family and he has come to know mine. My family adored him! Throughout our friendship we have worked several jobs with each other. I have worked for him and he has worked for me. We both understood the importance of keeping our personal lives outside of the office. We had an amazing support system for each other, which allowed us to achieve great success in the workplace. The Records and Information Management (RIM) Team will truly miss u. Personally our number 1 favorite thing to do was to watch sports (football and boxing). Like Mike stated in his post, we would crack up laughing and joking with each other all the time about who knew football, especially in the mornings. Lawrence and I also loved fried fish and we would ride to H street to get us some “Horse and Dickies” from time to time. I would always save my food until we got back to a table but not Lawrence. He would eat that hot fish as soon as the order came out! Lol Those days will forever be with me. I will miss you bro and I’m coming to understand that you’re in a much better place now.

I remember the photo with Rob, Leonard and Lawrence. I had the pleasure working with all three. There was never a day that they were not smiling or doing something together. My heart is heavy alongside them. Thank you for bring so much joy and fun to the RIMS team. D.

“ Mr.Lawrence was a good friend to me even though I had only known him for a short period of time. He was a Great neighbor who welcomed me and my family into the neighborhood with open arms. He was a very generous man with a positive attitude towards life . He will be missed but never forgotten.

Lawrence was truly a great friend. We argued every Sunday about the Redskins game and who knew more about football. I use to joke with him about a Geico commercial they made about a guy named Lawrence who wasn't that good in football lol. He was my man I miss this cool cat. It's hard on Sundays now because I have no one to argue with during the game. He used to tease me that my wife won't let me use my phone to talk to him if I didn't call him in 2 days. Lol. But everyday on his way home from work when hit the garage his phone always mysteriously would cut off. Lol. I told him Mrs. Sharon had a time limit on his phone and he wasn't allowed to talk in the house. Lol. He and Leonard would gang up on me and I'd tell the both of them a few choice words and Lawrence had this laugh that would crack me up. I miss this dude i wish all friends were as genuine as him. Miss you L Dog. Keep riding that train the light to the end of the tunnel will always stay lit for you home.
Much love your boy
